

The Wanamaker Store.

Signs of Spring

YOU will note in the news of day to day the increasing evidences of Springtime demands. Many show this morning.

There has been rapid selling in the Organdies, and Lawns, and cotton dress-stuffs generally, for weeks. The showing of the Costume Store in fluffy Summer dresses is a centre of constant interest. And the Neckwear people have tales to tell this morning.

Yet, with all this "Springness," there is much of Winter worth to talk about. Spring is not here—it is but on the way—and icy winds and slush have yet their best time coming. It is varied matter to-day, although unvarying in its economical interest.

Spring Hints in Neckwear
as fast as we get them. We do not believe in that usual form of mercantile calendar-making that dates Spring from the day stock is taken. Consequently we think we are alone in showing these new styles.

New stocks, for instance, made of new silks, in new shades. New all through. Sure to please you. $1. That's only one new thing out of a dozen. Come and see them.

Broadway and Tenth street.

Women's Handkerchiefs
Of course they are linen and all linen. That you would expect. The prices, however, are unexpected,—one-half and two-thirds of the accepted retail figures. The reason is that we have rather too many of certain widths of hem. The assortment is not well balanced, and we balance it by giving you the excess of the one-inch and one-and-a-half-inches widths at these new figures:

The $1.50 shirts at $1 a dozen. The $1.80 shirts at $1.25 a dozen. The $2.40 shirts at $1.50 a dozen. The $4.20 shirts at $2.25 a dozen.

Broadway.

Four-fold Screens, Two-fold Values
These are workmanship, and of the better class. They are 5½ ft. high, and the decorations are mostly in the dark-blue-and-white that you are familiar with. Regular prices here, $4.50 to $6. Regular prices elsewhere as high as $9.

Choose at $2.75 Each.

There are some of these that are slightly damaged, that you may pick at $1.50.
